Reconstruction Measures Fill Throne Speech

OTTAWA (CP)—Many of the measures Parliament will be asked to consider at the present session will be concerned with world reconstruction and the establishment of an enduring peace, the Speech from the Throne disclosed this afternoon.

The Speech, read to members of the Senate and the Commons by the Governor-General, at the opening of the second session of the 20th Parliament of Canada, did not indicate what form these measures might take.

It said, however, that Parliament will be asked: 1. To approve the recent $1,250,000,000 loan to the United Kingdom.

2. To make provision for the redistribution of representation in the House of Commons. 3. To make provision for the permanent armed forces. 4. To complete consideration of a "Veterans' Charter."

CITIZENSHIP BILL 5. To approve a bill clarifying the definition of Canadian citizenship.

6. To place in statutory form a number of orders-in-council to which it is desired to give permanent legislative effect.

7. To make a number of amendments to existing statutes. The speech did not state which orders-in-council would be put in permanent legislative form, nor did it indicate what existing statutes will be amended.

However, cabinet ministers have stated in recent months that foreign exchange control regulations will be placed on statutory basis. The ministers also have forecast amendments to the Criminal Code and to the Judges' Salaries Act.

The meetings of the co-ordinating committee of the Dominion-Provincial Conference last month were mentioned in the speech, but no details of what went on at the gatherings were disclosed.

"As a result of the conference, there may be further legislative proposals," said the speech.

NEW TAXATION PLANS

This was taken to indicate that if the conference reaches a successful conclusion at its next meeting in April, legislation likely will be introduced in Parliament to cover the new taxation agreements.

Besides referring to the recent United Nations' Organization meetings in London, the speech mentioned the Canadian participation in the Allied control of Germany and Japan.

"Time will be required for the drafting of the treaties of peace," said the speech. "A conference is to be held in Paris later in the year to consider proposed treaties with Italy, Finland, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria. Canada will be represented at this conference."

If Logging On Watershed Chlorination Must Stay

If logging operations are to be conducted on the Sooke Lake Watershed, as recommended by the Water Board as a source of revenue for the city, chlorination of the water must remain for the protection of the citizens of Greater Victoria in the opinion of Dr. Richard Felton, city medical health officer.

Logging operations, necessitating the presence of many men on the watershed, can only be conducted with safety to the water supply, Dr. Felton maintained if there is strict enforcement of provincial health standards for watershed workers, plus continued chlorination of the water.

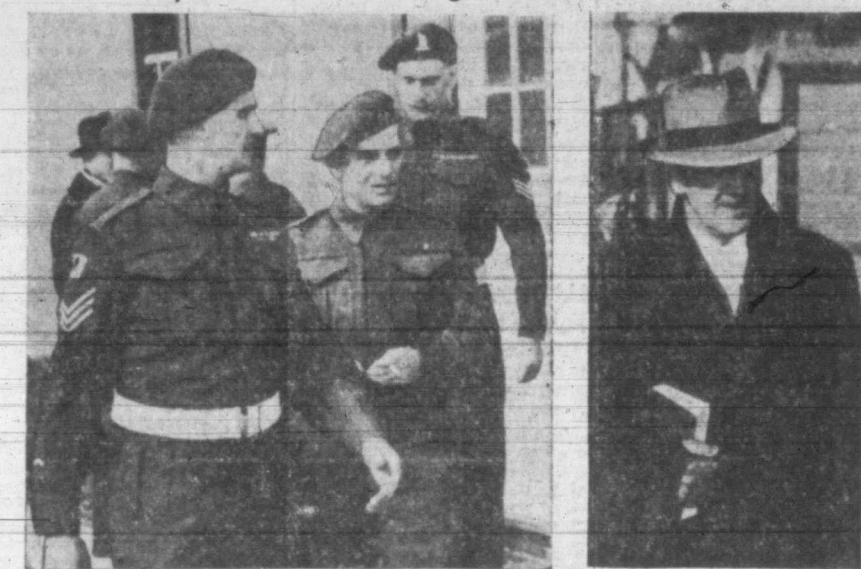

THREE QUALIFICATIONS

All workers going on the watershed would have to comply with three qualifications: 1. Never have had any water-borne disease. 2. Have negative blood tests. 3. Be free from any communicable disease.

It is only with these standards rigidly enforced, plus chlorination, that the health department can give any guarantee for the health of the citizens, he stressed.

The recommendations made by Ald. J. A. Worthington at Wednesday's meeting of the water board is that timber stands on Sooke Lake Watershed be logged off on a sustained yield basis to

Britain Would 'Regret' Any Settlement Made While Iran Occupied By Russians

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin declared today Britain would "regret" any settlement between Russia and Iran which "appeared to be extracted" from the Tehran government under duress while Soviet forces are still occupying the country.

Mr. Bevin told the House of Commons that despite the continued presence of Soviet troops in Iran the British government had taken no decision to put British troops back in the troubled area.

"Nor," he added, "have His Majesty's government taken any steps to open negotiations with the Iranian government for the return of British troops."

By Way of Iraq

British troops, when evacuating Iran under the Anglo-Soviet-Iran treaty agreement, moved across the border into Iraq.

Reviewing the Iranian situation up to the date of the agreed withdrawal, Mr. Bevin said the British government has received the "most categorical assurances" from Generalissimo Stalin and the Soviet government that Iran's integrity would be respected.

"We were assured," the foreign minister added, "that there was no intention of taking aggressive action against Iran." "It is very difficult for His Majesty's government to understand the present policy of Soviet Russia in this matter," Mr. Bevin said, "and even more difficult cult even to believe that all their assurances are not going to be fulfilled."

"Very difficult to understand present policy of Soviet Russia," Foreign Minister Bevin.

Terms Were Clear

Mr. Bevin made his statement in reply to a question from Anthony Eden, acting Conservative leader and former foreign minister. Mr. Bevin said Britain had agreed in the United Nations' Security Council for Russia and Iran to settle their differences by direct negotiation "on the clear assumption" that existing treaty obligations would be fulfilled.

"His Majesty's government," he said, "would regret any settlement which appeared to be extracted from the Iranian government under duress while the Soviet government were still in occupation of part of Iran."

The cabinet, meeting at 10 Downing Street, had received a full report earlier today from Bevin on Iranian developments. The Foreign Minister was understood to have told the cabinet it was urgent that Britain should make known her attitude.

Previously a Foreign Office spokesman had emphasized that while reported Red Army movements across northern Iran toward the borders and Turkey and Iraq made the situation "more grave," Britain's "major consideration" still was Russia's failure to pull her troops out of Iran on the date specified.

The Foreign Secretary fore-stalled questions in the Commons Wednesday with an explanation that he felt it was not the proper time to make a statement on Iran and diplomatic quarters said he had taken that course since he would be in better position to express government policy after today's cabinet session.

Asked Early Reply

Mr. Bevin told the House Britain had protested to Russia the "breach" of the British-Russian Iranian treaty of 1942 which provided for withdrawal of the Soviet troops from Iran. He said the British charge d'affaires in Moscow had been instructed to seek an early reply.

Reliable sources said the charge d'affaires had been instructed to inform Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov that Iranian statesmen have carried on politics directed toward bringing about a collision between the Soviet Union and other great powers, and using such a situa-

Red Army Turns Towards Turkey Tehran Reports

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP)—Iran was accused in Izvestia today of trying to seize Russian territories in the early years of the Soviet Union and of harboring politicians who still desired to carry out imperialistic designs against the U.S.S.R.

The writer, Alexeev, in a lengthy article entitled "The Iranian Question—The Grasping Plans of Iranian Reactionaries," declared some Iranians who entertained plans against Russia in 1919 still "exerted no small influence in the direction of Iranian politics."

Izvestia asserted the Iranians in a 1919 note demanded that the Soviet Union had over almost half of the Caucasus, including the whole of Soviet Azerbaijan, the oil city of Baku, Soviet Armenia, the city of Yerevan, and parts of the Trans-Caucasus, a total of 750,000 square kilometers of Soviet territory (289,000 square miles).

Moreover, the Iranians did nothing to interfere with the movement of a British detachment from Baghdad to Baku or stop British intervention in Ashkhabad, now in Soviet Turkmen, near the Iranian border, the writer added. "This ruling clique in Iran—not without instigation from the outside—dreamed of tearing away Soviet territories and also went so far as to try to make the Caspian Sea into an internal Iranian sea," Alexeev declared.

Charges Hakimi

Ibrahim Hakimi, who was premier at Tehran just before the present premier, Ahmed Qavam, was declared by Alexeev to be among the clique entertaining anti-Soviet designs.

"Facts remain facts," the commentator declared. "Iranian reactionaries wanted to use the temporary difficulties of the Soviet Union for seizing an appreciable part of its territory, including the oil districts of Baku and Turkmenia, and thereby deprive the Soviet Union of oil."

He said the claims were not even considered at the Paris Peace Conference at the end of the First Great War, "but the advancement of such demands cannot be regarded as accidental because, during the entire history of Soviet-Iranian relations, some Iranian statesmen have carried on politics directed toward bringing about a collision between the Soviet Union and other great powers, and using such a situation for accomplishing their grasping plans."

TEHRAN (AP)—The column of Russian troops which left Tabriz in Azerbaijan was reported today to have swung westward in the direction of the Turkish border.

Marshal Ivan Bagramian, Russian expert on tank warfare, and campaigning in difficult terrain, has been in Tabriz two or three weeks, sources disclosed Wednesday night. Bagramian made his reputation as commander on the Baltic front in the Second Great War.

The Russian column which left Tabriz at first was reported moving northward toward the Soviet border. At Oarand, however, it turned westward toward Khol, north of Lake Urmia, and near the Turkish border.

Tabriz is about 40 miles directly east of the lake.

Other Soviet forces were reported Wednesday to have moved south of the lake at Miyandub, near the Iraq border.

Khol is 80 miles south and slightly east of Mt. Ararat. This Turkish landmark stands just below the areas of Kars and Ardahan, which Russia has said should be ceded back to her.

Moving mostly at night, another column was reported at Minah, southeast of Lake Urmia, and the northern terminus of the railroad leading to Tehran. A hard-surfaced road also connects Minah with Kavin, Tehran and Karaj, 20 miles north of Tehran. Soviet tanks, fuel, and troops, were seen Wednesday at Karaj.

The Russian garrison at Tabriz, capital of the self-proclaimed autonomous state of Azerbaijan, was reliably reported to have been doubled, or tripled, in the past few weeks.

Scotland Yard Role for Police Suggested By Attorney-General

B.C. Police investigation of capital crimes which occur in organized territory is being sought by Attorney-General R. L. Maitland, K.C.

Today in a departmental recommendation submitted to the legislative standing committee on municipal affairs it was suggested that, if a crime has occurred in a municipality, the B.C. Police be authorized to conduct the inquiry, the local police force becoming subservient to it during the investigation. This would apply to the crimes which call for the death sentence.

No comment was made by the committee to the suggestion. It is scheduled for discussion by the committee later.

If this suggestion of Mr. Maitland is endorsed the B.C. Police criminal investigation branch, now being expanded, may assume a role similar to Scotland Yard in Britain, handling investigations of all capital crimes.

The Attorney-General suggested that if the B.C. Police were ordered to investigate a capital crime, the expense of the investigation and possible prosecution would be assumed by the province. The local police force would be required to take orders from the B.C. Police C.I.B. Branch.

Officials of the Tenants and Home Owners' League reported Wednesday night that picket lines would be formed around the house today if an eviction was attempted. They reported that veterans' organizations and labor unions were supporting the pickets.

Two Veterans Start Totem Pole Factory

Another pair of enterprising war veterans of Victoria have established themselves in the business world. They are John Byrne and Hector Thorburn, both at 970 Heywood Avenue, and believing a brisk demand for lasting souvenirs of Victoria and the Island are producing solid brass images of the historic Thunderbird totem pole.

But they do not stop at totem poles. They intend to manufacture solid, brass bookends, ornamental dogs and other members of the animal world, fire-dogs, door knockers and a variety of other articles. They have received considerable encouragement in their enterprising effort and one city firm has really agreed to handle their complete fire-dog production.

Title of their firm is "West Coast Trading Company." They hold patent rights on designs of their articles.

More Acreage Bought For Saanich Fair

SIDNEY—Purchase of a additional five acres of land to cope with the increasing demand for space, was decided upon at a meeting of the directors of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society, who met to discuss plans for the 78th annual fall fair.

Appointment of committee was begun and matters of parking, general cleaning of the fair grounds and roadside approaches discussed.

Sections for livestock were revised and several new classes will be included. Special attention was drawn to the Holstein cattle classes, with a considerable increase in the number of entries expected this year.

Plans Night Sessions

Premier John Hart has placed on the Legislative order paper a motion for Friday which will authorize him to call night sessions in the B.C. Legislature.

While the motion is due Friday it is not expected it will be implemented immediately. Present guesses at the Parliament Buildings indicate the House will not go into night sessions until the middle of next week or the start of the following week.

World Measures To Keep Parliament Busy

Legislation Announced In Speech Already Predicted

OTTAWA (CP)—The Throne Speech: Honorable Members of the Senate: Members of the House of Commons:

It is just over six months since Canada emerged from six long years of war. The turmoil which has followed in the wake of war has created new problems for governments in all parts of the globe. The world is full of unrest. Hunger, privation and suffering have become the lot of millions. Other millions are homeless, many of them in exile. The problems which face the statesmen of every nation are formidable indeed.

It is only in the light of the world situation that all our problems can be seen in true perspective. The future of our own and of every country depends upon success in the task of world reconstruction, and the establishment of an enduring peace. Many of the measures you will be called upon to consider at the present session will be concerned with this wider aspect of human affairs.

Of world problems demanding immediate action, the most pressing is the provision of food to those peoples facing acute shortage, and, in some regions, widespread famine. The chance of a peaceful reconstruction of the world depends on food. The shortage at the present time is very great. The problem, moreover, is not only for the next few months, but also for the next few years. Unless the need is met, grave disorders, endangering peace itself, must be anticipated.

The government is seeking by all practicable means to make available for export the maximum supply of foodstuffs. Every encouragement is being given to increasing production. The gravity of the situation demands, on the part of the people of Canada, a united and wholehearted effort.

The maintenance of a high level of employment and national income is a fundamental aim of government policy. Employment and income alike are bound up with the restoration and expansion of world trade. To the productive employment of vast numbers of Canadians, export markets are essential.

The government has steadily pursued its efforts to restore former markets, to secure new markets and generally to expand peace-time exports. In pursuit of this policy, export credits, for which additional provision was made at the last session, have been extended to several of our wartime allies.

At this session you will be asked to approve an agreement, recently concluded, for a loan to the United Kingdom which will help maintain the British market for Canadian food products and other exports. The agreement will also contribute to the steady development of trade between the two countries, the removal of trade barriers and the free use of currencies for international trade.

While Canada, in common with all countries, continues to experience dislocations inevitable in a period of transition from war to peace, in no other country has the transition proceeded more speedily or with less friction.

Conversion of war industries to civilian production is progressing steadily, with a minimum of industrial strife, and increased co-operation between labor and management.

Wartime restrictions and controls are being removed as rapidly as conditions will permit. Price ceilings on many articles have been suspended. Wage and salary controls have been relaxed. Certain subsidies have been discontinued. Only such controls are being continued as are deemed necessary to prevent inflation and to safeguard the public welfare.

Except for the forces still employed in connection with the occupation of Germany, practically all of our armed forces are now home. Demobilization of both men and women is taking place rapidly. Every effort is being made to ensure the orderly re-establishment of veterans in civil life.

To complete consideration of the "veterans charter" you will be asked to reconstitute the special committee on veterans' affairs.

You will also be asked to make provision for the permanent armed forces, the composition of which much consideration has been given.

Special Efforts Made in Housing

In our own as in other countries the demand for housing continues greatly to exceed the supply. Despite shortages of materials and labor, a very large number of houses have been constructed since VE-Day. Special efforts are being made to expand the supply of building materials to meet the demand for permanent housing, and, meanwhile, to provide emergency shelter. The central mortgage and housing corporation has been established. Its activities are being closely co-ordinated with those of War-time Housing Limited and the Veterans' Land Act Administration, with a view to having all matters relating to the construction of housing brought, as largely as possible, under the administration of one Minister or the Crown.

You will be asked to make provision for the redistribution of representation in the House of Commons. Among other measures to which your attention will be invited will be bills to revise and clarify the definition of Canadian citizenship, and to bring the legislation respecting national status, naturalization and immigration into conformity with the definition of citizenship; bills to place in statutory form a number of orders in council to which it is desired to give permanent legislative effect; also a number of amendments to existing statutes.

Since the close of the last session, the initial meeting of the General Assembly of the United Nations has been held in London. The Assembly will conclude its first session in New York in September. The Security Council, the Economic and Social Council, the Commission on Atomic Energy, and the International Court of Justice have been established. Our country was represented at the General Assembly by a delegation including Ministers of the Crown, other Members of Parliament, and leading officials of the public service. Canada was elected to the Economic and Social Council and to the Commission on Atomic Energy. A distinguished Canadian was elected a Judge of the International Court.

U.N.O. Promised Fullest Support

It is the policy of my ministers to see that the utmost support is given by Canada to the United Nations Organization.

The problems of peace-making are exacting and arduous. Germany and Japan continue to be under Allied military control. Early in the year, a Canadian mission was established in Berlin to safeguard Canadian interests in Germany. Canada's interests in Japan are being watched through Canadian membership on the Far Eastern Commission, which recently visited Tokyo. The commission has its headquarters in Washington.

Time will be required for the drafting of the treaties of peace. A conference is to be held in Paris later in the year to consider proposed treaties with Italy, Finland, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria. Canada will be represented at this conference.

A meeting of the co-ordinating committee of the Dominion-Provincial conference was held in January. Progress was made in the consideration of proposals submitted by the Dominion and provincial governments. The committee will meet again on April 25.

As a result of the conference, there may be further legislative proposals. Members of the House of Commons: You will be asked to make financial provision for all essential services, and for credits required to maintain export trade and a high level of employment and national income.

Honorable Members of the Senate: My term of office is now almost at an end. You have already been informed of the appointment of Field Marshal Viscount Alexander of Tunis as my successor. Lord Alexander will arrive in Canada early in April.

As this is the last occasion on which I shall have the honor to address you, may I be allowed to strike a personal note.

In 1914, I was unable to succeed His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught in the position of Governor-General, for the simple reason that I was at that time a serving soldier. The disappointment I had sustained was, however, more than compensated for by my reappointment in 1940, strange to say, during another World War. It was for me a great honor to have been chosen. The intimate association with my Prime Minister, Ministers, Parliament and the people of this great country has brought you all very close to the hearts of Princess Alice and myself.

The years we have been in Canada have been the most eventful years in world history. It has been with profound admiration that we have witnessed the great part Canada has had in the preservation of world freedom, in the relief of suffering peoples, and in helping to lay the foundations of a new world order. Princess Alice and I will ever recall that in these momentous years it has been our proud privilege to share in our anxieties and rejoicings, throughout our lives we shall cherish an abiding affection for Canada and her people.

May Divine providence continue to bless this nation, and to guide the Parliament of Canada in all its deliberations.

B.C. Conference Of United Church May 15

VANCOUVER (CP)—Arrangements are being completed for the annual British Columbia conference of the United Church of Canada opening in St. Andrews-Wesley Church here May 15.

The conference will be preceded on May 14 by all-day sessions of the lay association of the conference.

The ordination service will be held May 17, when the speaker will be Capt. Uriah Laite.

Hairdressers Approve New Agreement Negotiations For Forest, Mill Work

The executive of the Hairdressers' Association of B.C., of which there are over 2,000 members, decided at a meeting last night that the present minimum wage as applied to hairdressing was inadequate and approved of the government agreeing to an increase.

Inasmuch as hairdressers' maximum hours of work are now only 44 instead of 48, as applies to the retail trade generally, it was felt that any reduction in the present maximum hours will not effect hairdressers.

As the executive consists of both employers and employees, it was decided to send a questionnaire to both employers and employees advising that when the minimum wage is finally determined by the Department of Labor, that separate meetings will be called so that all may have an opportunity of expressing their opinion.

Nelson's Woman Mail Carrier Leads

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—Sudbury's two women mail carriers have nothing on Nelson's Miss Beatrice Lutkewich.

A Sudbury dispatch Tuesday told how Florence Marcotte had walked 6,750 miles and Mrs. V. I. Mison 7,000 miles, but the Nelson post office's only woman carrier has a record of 14,702½ miles—more than the combined total of the Ontario pair.

While the Sudbury women tote the mail 12 to 15 miles a day, Miss Lutkewich trudges 20½ miles daily in an uphill district. She works 5½ days a week and has been on the route for 31 months.

Ten applications by war veterans to use their re-establishment credits to enter business in Victoria and the island were approved at Tuesday's meeting of the Re-establishment Credit Advisory Committee. Applications ranged from veterans wanting to enter farming, the fuel business, establishment of a rooming house, going into the building construction business and a partnership in a joinery and sash and door factory.

Representatives of the union will go to the bargaining table with a strike vote in their pockets. During the last months the I.W.A.'s 14 Local Unions in the province balloted on the question of authorizing their bargaining executives to call a strike in the industry if they should judge it necessary in the course of enforcing their views on industry. The vote was affirmative.

Accumulation of a strike fund set at $100,000 has been continuing through February and March, but the amount collected has not been disclosed.

New Agreement Negotiations For Forest, Mill Work

VANCOUVER (CP)—Union proposals for revision for 1946 of collective agreements affecting about 30,000 workers in 200 operations in the forest products industry in British Columbia were presented to the operating companies today by the International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.).

Union proposals are: Wage increases of 25 cents an hour, 40-hour work week, union shop and check-off.

Negotiations are scheduled to start about March 21 when counter-proposals for revision of the existing "master agreement" in the industry will be submitted to the union by the employers. Forest products operations involved are logging, sawmilling, shingle, plywood and associated branches of the industry throughout the province.

Commenting on the submissions of the union, Harold Pritchett, district president of the I.W.A. and R.V. Stuart, president of Stuart Research Service Ltd., representing the employers, emphasized that "everything will be done to arrive at an amicable settlement at the bargaining table."

By law, bargaining must continue for 30 days. If an agreement is not reached at the end of that period, either side may apply to the Department of Labor for conciliation, which requires a further period of 43 days.

VANCOUVER—Announcement was made by President MacKenzie of the appointment of Maj. J. F. McLean, D.S.O., veterans' counsellor to the post of supervisor of the new permanent employment Bureau at the University of B.C.

Commenting on the formation of the bureau, Dr. MacKenzie said: "I feel it is of very grave importance to help the students, both veteran and civilian, to find employment in summer work and on graduation. Defiant Goering Tells Tribunal Of Testing Luftwaffe In Spain

NUERNBERG (AP)—Hermann Goering testified before the International Military Tribunal here today that he had asked Hitler to send help to Generalissimo Francisco Franco during the Spanish Civil War "to prevent the spread of Communism and to try our young air force experimentally."

"At that time," said Goering of Nazi intervention in Spain, "I had an opportunity to see if we had the proper equipment, and I saw to it that the personnel got some experience."

"Young men continually went and returned."

He said Franco had asked for aid, "particularly air aid."

Goering, resuming direct testimony in his own behalf, boasted that his Luftwaffe was responsible for the swift conquest of Poland.

He confirmed that he had ordered the Nazi aircraft industry to develop a bomber capable of flying to the United States and back, insisting they do this work "expeditiously in case America entered the war."

The lack of aluminum and technological planning had caused powers were unwilling to disarm and that a power in the east—Russia—was carrying out unheard-of rearmament. It became necessary for us to learn in the interests of the security of the Reich."

OPponents IN VIEW

He said that in planning the air force "I had to ascertain who could be the potential opponents in the war to start with."

"The chief opponent was Russia, but of course England, France and Italy had to be considered."

"The Luftwaffe was developing jet aircraft even before the war," he said, adding proudly, "I am solely responsible for rearmament. Goering told the tribunal: 'When it was clear that other

NO EARLY WITHDRAWAL FROM AUSTRIA FORESEEN

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press World Traveler

VIENNA (AP)—Your correspondent has come away from a highly interesting, informal conversation with Gen. Mark Clark, United States commander-in-chief in Austria, with the impression that he would like to see all the Allied forces of occupation—Russian, British, French and American—withdrawn from this country by next fall and the administration turned over to the Austrian government.

I understand there is before the Allied Council a proposal for a withdrawal. However, if I have interpreted the general's feeling correctly, he is indulging in a wish rather than any strong expectation that such a withdrawal may take place.

While the British, French and Americans might be prepared to pull out under a four-power agreement, there is no indication the Russians would subscribe to any such procedure at an early date.

Los Angeles Gains Coast Hockey Final

HOLLYWOOD (CP)—Los Angeles Monarchs trounced Oakland Oaks, 4 to 1, here Wednesday night to take the best-of-three southern division Pacific Coast Hockey League semifinal series in two straight games.

Monarchs now meet Hollywood Wolves in the division finals, the winner to meet the victor in the northern division for the coast championship.

Alf Kunkel, John Richardson, Nick Polich and Ken Schultz netted for Los Angeles. Ed Olson scored the lone Oakland goal in the second period.

women meekly agree that this is their second greatest fault. The third indictment men would level against their yoke-mates is gadding about; attending too many tea parties, bridge parties, and movies. Women themselves put this low on the list of their misdemeanours, and would give third place to "untidiness."

But these are the three top faults as men see wives. Here are the next, in order of mention: 4. They spend too much money; 5. They are too selfish; too egotistical.

6. Infidelity: they are too ready to flirt with another man. 7. They don't co-operate in the home; don't take enough responsibility for the home. 8. They don't know enough about the problems and difficulties their husbands have; not sympathetic enough with their husbands.

Six in every 100 married men were gallant—or truthful—enough to say: "They have no faults" or "their faults are their greatest—charm." Maybe your husband was one of these.

Twenty-three in every 100, perhaps suffering from battle fatigue, did not attempt to answer the question.

Stalin's Statement Hardly Conciliatory, Says British Paper

LONDON (Reuter)—Almost without exception the British press today headlined Generalissimo Stalin's description of Winston Churchill as a "war-monger" for Mr. Churchill's recent speech at Fulton, Mo.

Typical were the headlines in the Conservative Daily Mail: "Sensational Reply From the Kremlin to Britain's War Leader—War-monger, Closely Resembling Hitler."

The diplomatic correspondent of the influential Manchester Guardian, Liberal, called Gen. Stalin's statement "much the most important exposition of Russian policy towards the West that has been made since the war."

"The speech was hardly conciliatory," he continued. "It opens a new and perhaps grave chapter in international relations."

The Manchester Guardian editorially quoted Premier Stalin as saying Mr. Churchill's speech had hindered collaboration, and asked: "Can Stalin point to any effort made by Russia for that collaboration in the last three months? All the evidence has pointed to a deliberate campaign to break up the British Empire, eject the British government and turn the United States against us. Unless there is a change soon, world disaster can hardly be averted."

The Yorkshire Post, Conservative, only other paper to comment at once on the Stalin statement, called for an end to "long-range recrimination," declared suspicion could only be removed "by examination at the highest level" of three-power policies and suggested a direct meeting between Mr. Churchill, President Truman and Prime Minister Clement Attlee.

The entry of Mrs. Harry Hayes of Armstrong, won the Aberdeen Angus title.

Bail Set for Spy Ring Suspects

OTTAWA (CP)—Magistrate Glenn Strike Wednesday fixed bail for the four persons arraigned before him earlier on various charges of providing secret and confidential information to Russia through a Russian-sponsored espionage ring in Canada.

The bail was fixed at $6,000 for Capt. Gordon Lunan, 30, Canadian army officer on loan to Canadian Information Service. Bail of $3,000 was fixed in the case of Edward Wilfred Mazerall, 29, an employee of the National Research Council Division which developed radar.

The amount of $1,500 each was set in the case of Mrs. Emma Wolkin, 25, of Blaine Lake, Sask., a cipher clerk in the Department of External Affairs, and Kathleen Mary Willeher, 40, of London, Eng., assistant registrar at the office of the United Kingdom high commissioner to Canada.

29 Other Charges Face British N.C.O. In Winnipeg Trial

WINNIPEG (CP)—Freed of a charge of killing Pte. John U. Friesen of the Winnipeg Grenadiers in a Japanese prison camp, Cpl. A. Sig. J. John Hugh Harvey of London, England, today faced a general court-martial on 29 other accusations, including collaboration.

The court was the same as that which acquitted him Wednesday of a charge of administering blows which caused Friesen's death in the Oyama camp hospital about Feb. 2, 1944. Maj. Gen. J. W. N. Hough of Glasgow is president.

The place also was the same—a former C.W.A.C. recreation hut at Fort Osborne barracks here.

The court took only 10 minutes Wednesday to consider the evidence against Harvey, 34-year-old Royal Army Medical Corpsman with a record of 15 years' service, before acquitting him. He was immediately returned to detention to await today's proceedings.

During the manslaughter hearing witnesses testified—and the defence at no time denied—Harvey had struck Friesen several times in the camp hospital the morning the Canadian was brought there as a patient. But the defence claimed Friesen was delirious, acting violently and molesting other patients.

As senior medical orderly, Harvey said, he had attempted to calm Friesen, first by urging him to "get hold of yourself" and then, by striking him lightly on the jaw with his fist. But a few minutes later Friesen was reported again acting violently and Harvey returned, this time striking other blows. A short time afterward, the Canadian died.

Witnesses testified the camp's medical officer, Surgeon Lt. Cmdr. Stenning of the Royal Australian Naval Reserve, had later announced Harvey was not responsible for Friesen's death and if there was any responsibility to be borne he himself would assume it.

BABY'S CRY IS NOT ALWAYS TEMPER

DISTINGUISH between your baby's cry of pain and cry of temper. The "pain cry" should have instant attention. For the feverish distress due to gas on stomach or bowels, or those common digestive upsets, give Baby's Own Tablets at once. Mrs. Mary Mundy of Toronto, finds they work every time.

"I am the mother of nine children; three of them were babies, and Baby's Own Tablets have been my only medicine in raising them to the healthy children they now are. As soon as my children became a little feverish I at once gave them Baby's Own Tablets and in a very short time the fever disappeared and the children were normal again."

Equally effective for constipation, upset stomach, teething troubles and other minor ailments of babies. Sweet-tasting—easily crushed to a powder, if desired. No "sleepy" stuff—no after effects. In a package today. Sickened often strikes in the night. 25 cents. Money back if you are not satisfied.

MARSHAL STALIN JOINS IN

AS IF TO LEND HIS PERSONAL AUTHORITY to the bitter assaults which the newspapers Pravda and Izvestia have made on Mr. Churchill for his speech last week in Fulton, Mo., Generalissimo Stalin himself now appears to have gone off the deep end with an extraordinary attack on the former British Prime Minister. For, among other unfriendly allusions to the "great Englishman," the veteran marshal of the Kremlin is quoted as saying that the man from Westminster "reminds one of Hitler and his friends" and charges him with "inflaming the causes of war" by "introducing race theories"—and telling lies. In other words, because Mr. Churchill bespoke a more intimate "fraternal association" between the English-speaking nations, the Soviet leader puts him on a par with the late and unlamented Fuehrer who "declared that only people who speak the German language are people of a pure race."

Yesterday's fresh blast against the former Prime Minister, however, will recall to a world with a long memory how Britain diverted crucial supplies and equipment of which she herself stood in dire need in order that Russia might be the better able to deal with the Nazi hordes then driving eastward with a momentum reminiscent of the western Blitzkrieg. Nor will fair-minded people anywhere soon forget that memorable verbal picture of a happy Russian countryside, faced with cruel desolation by "Hitler and his friends," which Mr. Churchill drew that fateful June day in 1941 to inspire the rest of the free world to maximum efforts in behalf of the new ally against the German aggressor. And it will not be surprising if even some Anglophobes detect in the strange attitude of Marshal Stalin and two of his journalistic mouthpieces a technique which differs little in its implication from that sedulously applied by the Nazi oligarchy to Germany's relations with the outside world as Hitler prepared the stage for his war of aggression.

To peoples throughout the globe—including the Russians—whose one desire and demand is lasting peace, this exchange of explosive rhetoric is disturbing. And it assumes sinister shape when Marshal Stalin points his shafts at Mr. Churchill as if the latter were still Prime Minister. For the Soviet leader describes Churchill's offer of a 50-year treaty of friendship with the Soviet Union as "nothing more than a piece of paper of no value." Now the generalissimo knows full well that it was Mr. Bevin who said at the meeting of the General Assembly of the United Nations in London that he was ready to advise his government to extend the existing 20-year pact for an additional 30 years if Russia so desired. All Mr. Churchill said in his Fulton speech last week was that he concurred heartily in the Foreign Secretary's proposal.

What Marshal Stalin has not told the world is that the Russian people heard nothing of Mr. Bevin's friendly gesture; a muzzled Soviet press confined itself mainly to the full details of Mr. Vishinsky's tilts with the head of the British Foreign Office. And yet it was Mr. Churchill, as Prime Minister, who fathered the original pact, which is almost three years old. Just as "Hitler and his friends" fed the German people with only the Nazi version of world events, so, by the same token, are the men in charge at the Kremlin emulating this dangerous procedure. Thus does the argument for a free and untrammelled press gain strength.

Notwithstanding the gloomy picture of Anglo-Russian relations, however, it is difficult to believe that either Marshal Stalin or any of his intimate advisers will persist in adding to existing tension, for name-calling is a poor substitute for common sense. But in the words of an editorial published by The Times of London today: "The moment has been reached—a little more than six months after the final defeat of the enemy—when an international agreement between the partners in victory is openly broken, and relations between them are being conducted in the naked terms of rival power." To which may be added the suggestion that the time has arrived to clear the air by sensible discussion—instead of double-talk.

MR. W. E. PAYNE

TO VANCOUVER, WHERE HIS SERVICES as executive secretary of the Board of Trade had been fully recognized for their progressiveness, the sudden death this week of Mr. W. E. "Bill" Payne has come as a severe blow. Both in personality and in broadness of concept he had been an ideal man for the post he held. Friendliness and ability had combined in him to provide a citizen from whom our neighbors across the Gulf of Georgia had gained great profit.

The sense of loss is not, however, limited solely to the people of his own city. "Bill" Payne's influence reached far beyond the boundaries of that community. Other cities and towns of British Columbia knew and gained help from his organizational talents and sound advice. They found in him a friend to whom they could turn for assistance with the knowledge that the advantages of his wide experience would not be denied them. This province is the richer because he lived and worked in it; it is the poorer through his death.

BUT NOT A WITCH-HUNT

APPROXIMATELY SEVEN YEARS AGO the late Courtney Ryley Cooper, in a book exposing certain delinquency racketeers, devoted a section to obscenity in print and picture. His indictment was sharply drawn, his evidence irrefutable, his case proved to the hilt. Mr. Cooper, admittedly, was dealing with a type of booklet much more vicious than the trash currently under censure by the Legislature's standing committee on social welfare and education. Yet the objectionable material now drawing fire can be classed in a category somewhat similar to that which he excoriated.

In recent years certain agencies have declined sale of the type to which exception is taken. They have shown a commendable honesty of purpose in refusing to distribute the cheap publications and thereby have foregone any slight profit the sales would have entailed. An appeal to others to follow a similar course might yield good results.

The mature mind will, of course, recognize for what it is the cheap, sensational and undesirable printed matter. It will recognize, too, the invitation such trash extends to reactionary elements to start a literary witch-hunt. That is a secondary factor which should not escape notice. Much that approaches the classical in literature can be distorted by an inquisitorial attack. Much that is genuine can be sullied. Before the forces of zealotry are released, it might be well for the authorities to do a little sanitation work on the flow of printed matter.

OUR RESPONSIBILITY

IN A WORLD IN WHICH THE CONTINUING reports of discord cloud the skies of early peace, courageous efforts to relieve global famine provide one of the few inspiring lights. In the midst of distrusts, of open hostilities, and new and old hatreds, the will of peoples in more fortunate countries to succor those who face a cruel death through starvation offers one guide to decency and a recognition of the possible dignity of living.

In the western hemisphere, where none need go without the means of subsistence, the opportunity is offered to build a strong foundation for peace and greater respect among the nations of the world. A measure of self-denial here can mean the difference between life and death elsewhere. This is the responsibility which North Americans, particularly Canadians and citizens of the United States, face today.

The problems of conveying the necessities of life to famine areas are, in themselves, difficult in the extreme. Lack of transport furnishes its own heart-breaking hurdles. But it is safe to assume that the physical obstacles blocking the flow of food to the needy will not be further increased by an unwillingness in this country to do without some of the luxuries in order that those in other parts of the world may live. This is not a time when we can hoard the riches a bountiful providence has placed at our disposal. It is a time when we must share them with those—many through no fault of their own—in dire need.

Canadians will not remain unmoved by the shocking pictures they have seen of children suffering from malnutrition. They will not turn a deaf ear to the statement of one of their own officials: "This is undoubtedly the worst situation of its kind in history. Its potential effect almost defies imagination." They can see some of the results in the seething movements of those denied adequate food. They know that a hungry people is an angry people. And they realize that one of the greatest of their contributions not only to the cause of humanity but to the strengthening of better accord between nations lies in their ability to share with others the contents of Canada's larders. A similar appreciation elsewhere on this continent will give encouragement to officials of this Dominion, Great Britain and the United States now meeting in Washington to allot life-saving supplies.

THE TREND IS GENERAL

VICTORIANS WILL HAVE NOTED with interest that in Seattle on Tuesday the ratepayers endorsed by a majority of more than six to one a by-law calling for expenditure of $10,000,000 on a public school building program. Nor is this manifestation of support for major cultural outlays limited to the Sound City. Earlier this year Vancouver demonstrated its parallel interest by passing without difficulty an imposing vote for library improvement.

In the near future the ratepayers here will be asked to give their backing to similar votes of a substantial nature, specifically for new schools. Educational needs recognized as urgent by civic authorities include the modernization of the existing Central Junior High School, construction of at least one more junior high, expansion of technical training facilities, alterations and additions to Victoria High School and construction of a new primary in the James Bay district.

The expenditure entailed will, of course, be comparatively large. A city cannot escape such an eventuality in its ordinary growth, particularly when it has avoided large capital outlay through the absence of major building for approximately 30 years.

Before the ratepayers are asked for their approval, the program naturally will be studied with meticulous care. And when the ballots are being cast, it is safe to assume that Victoria will march in step with the progressive cities of the northwest which have already demonstrated their appreciation of the need for substantial expenditure in the educational field.

Walter Lippmann

A SOUR NOTE ON ELOQUENCE

SECRETARY BYRNES has now said—or rather he has said once again—all the things that Senator Vandenberg wants to have said. I hope I am entirely wrong in feeling that the Senator might have given some indication, however faint, that he is going to work for, and not merely be eloquent about, moral leadership, and a positive foreign policy, and no vacillation.

If he is going to work for these things, he will no doubt at once exert his own leadership in his own party, insisting upon prompt, positive and unvacillating measures, even if at first they are not too popular, to send food to the peoples threatened with starvation, to furnish financial and other assistance for rehabilitation, and to provide the United States with a postwar military establishment adequate to its responsibilities.

FOR WHAT Senator Vandenberg wants done cannot be done by making speeches in the Senate or in the Security Council. Positive leadership requires positive measures, and for positive measures it is necessary to pay the price. The price has to be paid in money, in self-denial, in effort, and when Senator Vandenberg is as bold, as forthright, as resounding on military policy, the British loan, and the United States' scandalous failure to meet her Unrta commitments, as he has been on things in general, he will have earned the applause he has received.

If this seems rather a sour note, I can say only that I see no satisfying evidence in the Senator's speech that he has measured the commitment which his words impose upon his country. He proposes to contest the leadership of Asia and the great part of Europe with the Soviet Union. I share the view that the U.S. has no choice but to contest it—up to the point, certainly, where the Soviet Union stabilizes its position and ceases to expand.

BUT THIS is an enormous task, difficult, laborious and dangerous, and I just cannot help feeling a profound disquiet when I hear a Senator, especially one with Mr. Vandenberg's record, using such very big words without any corresponding indications that he is thinking seriously about how the big cheques he is writing are to be cashed, how the big words are to be made good.

I do not question the sincerity of Senator Vandenberg's conversion to the ideals of the U.N.O., or the genuineness of his devotion to an organized peace. But he was equally sincere when he was a leading isolationist. What was wrong with him then was not his heart and his ideals but his practical judgment, his capacity to estimate correctly the peril which threatened his country, and the measures, domestic and international needed to meet that peril. He opposed virtually all the essential measures because he sincerely believed that if the United States wanted peace hard enough, it would have peace by its superior moral position.

NOW IT IS far from clear that in his conversion from isolation, he has also changed the habits of mind which underlay it. Unless he supplements the speech he has just made in the Senate, one would have to say that he had not changed the habit of his mind. For now instead of security in isolation by virtue of her moral superiority, the U.S. is to have the leadership of the world by virtue of the same superiority—by virtue, as he put it, of "the extraordinary power inherent in this selfishness."

Would that this flattering and inexpensive conception of ourselves were true. But it is not true. We have to grow up and become adult enough to realize that the world will not take us at this valuation of ourselves. We must not look into our own mirrors and think we are looking out of the window.

THE INFLUENCE of the United States is great. It rests upon the prestige she acquired by the valor and skill of her fighting men and the prodigious achievements of her people at home. We proved that we can be a great power in a cause which was the cause of mankind. But let us not imagine that this prestige, which cost so much when it was gained, will remain intact unless we make the effort and pay the price year in, year out, to preserve it.

It is already diminished, and if, as we must, we are to contest the moral leadership of the world with a government which exercises a rigorous discipline over its own people, and imposes upon them an austere and laborious life, we shall have to make extraordinary demands upon ourselves. We just cannot go hooping into frenzied pleasure and back to business as usual, and do anything effective to make a free economy feasible and attractive in the shattered and dislocated world about us.

WE JUST CANNOT make faces at Russia, brandish the atomic bomb, and refuse to vote the powers and the money which are indispensable if we are to have a military establishment.

Nor can we sink back to the political level of a past generation, allow our ablest men to leave the government service, and put in posts of critical responsibility men who think they have proved their fitness for high office if they are acquitted of violating the law.

For moral leadership in the world is not to be had by eloquence. And it is not to be had cheaply.

After the German Winter—What?

By G. V. FERGUSON

IF BERLIN is as devastated as it appears to be, there is an obvious mystery about it. Its population remains immense—some 3,500,000—only about half a million down from normal. Where do they live? What do they do? Above all, what are these beaten, dulled and apathetic people thinking. How long can the apathy last?

Driving through the streets it seems impossible to imagine even where the dwellings are, so much is wrecked. But, after nightfall, the same streets show feeble lights gleaming even from top storeys. Apartment houses that look uninhabitable in reality are not. Some apartments at least remain, the stairways to them remain mountable. The cellars are sound. Some quarters are relatively undamaged. These must be packed. People who own stores have moved into the back room to live.

BUT WHAT they do is an even greater mystery. Berlin is a great industrial city, but its industries now have no raw materials. Some have been smashed, many have been dismantled by the Russians and carried east. Berlin has many thousands of civil officials, the municipal staff has been increased by the thousands now clearing rubble, transportation workers make up many more. Many small stores scratch up tiny stocks of goods and open their doors. But what it mainly adds up to is that there is no real production of wealth; services are being maintained, rations are being provided by the occupying powers.

The people themselves, then, should have nothing to do. But they remain busy. The Germans are earnest and industrious. They work and work. Their main preoccupation this winter is gathering fuel. Along every street in Berlin—as in other cities of the land—men, boys and girls are carrying firewood.

UNTIL WINTER'S end this will be the occupation of the German people. The struggle to had passed to other hands. The traffic cops had lost face. They no longer represented power. The Germans were prepared to accept the new masters, but they were baffled by the continuance of any part of the old regime. But this applies only to the mass. There remain the tough nationalists, the men and women who would have formed the resistance movement. Today, in their miserable cellars and fox-holes, they begin to think, and army intelligence believes they mean trouble, that hidden weapons will appear, that the invaders will be attacked. It will not be a powerful thrust, but it will be annoying and bloody.

Women's Council Frames Resolutions For Legislature

The annual meeting of the Provincial Council of Women continued today at the Y.W.C.A. Morning session, commencing at 9.15, was taken up with the framing of resolutions for presentation to the cabinet on Friday morning.

Col. H. T. Farcy, superintendent of education, spoke at a delegates' luncheon held at the Kit Kat Cafe at 12.30.

Afternoon session commenced at 2 with Mayor Percy E. George bringing greetings from the city of Victoria. Dr. G. E. Amyot, provincial health officer, addressed the meeting. Reports from local councils were given, followed by discussion.

SESSION OPENS

Opening session of the meeting was held Wednesday night in the Y.W.C.A. There were 24 out-of-town delegates registered from the six local councils in British Columbia—Vancouver, North Shore, New Westminster, Chilliwack, Kamloops, Nanaimo. Victoria is the seventh local council.

Owing to the unavoidable absence of the retiring president, Mrs. Ella M. Bingham of Vancouver, Mrs. Alfred Carmichael, vice-president and acclaimed president for 1946, took the chair. Heads of committees were named as follows: Courtesy, Mrs. R. C. Cornier, New Westminster; registration, Mrs. Bertha Parsons, Victoria; returning officer, Mrs. Ada Crump, Vancouver; tellers, Mrs. R. G. Fry, Chilliwack, Mrs. S. R. Wallace, North Shore, Mrs. F. Hollis, Vancouver, and Mrs. M. Clarkson, Nanaimo.

PAPERS GIVEN

An interesting paper was presented by the Vancouver council, read by Mrs. S. R. Wallace, on Indian affairs in British Columbia with particular emphasis on the coast tribes. Mrs. J. E. Fitzwater of Kamloops presented a paper on the same subject dealing with the Shuswap Indians.

Compiled by Mrs. Bingham from briefs sent in from the local councils, an interim report on immigration was read by Mrs. H. Simms, corresponding secretary, provincial council and newly-elected president of the Vancouver Local Council. The report stressed that councils in their briefs felt that Canada needed immigration of the right sort and that Canada could double her population in new settlers and still absorb them without difficulty.

Dorothy Dix

Daer Miss Dix: I am a 16-year-old girl who is very blue. I was adopted by a couple when I was a 14-month-old baby. They have treated me well, but I want my own parents. Especially I want my own mother whom I love, even if I don't know who she is. I feel that she is the only one who can ever understand me.

Can you tell me how I can find out who she is and where she is? The people I am staying with won't tell me anything about my parents.

WORRIED GIRL

Answer: I wish that something that I could say would straighten out your thinking and make you see your situation as it really is. For, if you did, you would have some appreciation of the kindness and goodness of the people who adopted you, instead of regarding them as enemies who have done you some wrong.

Before you call your foster-mother, who has fed and clothed and cared for you for 15 years, "that woman," think of all she has done for you and the gratitude you owe her and remember that your own mother wanted you so little she deserted you when you were a helpless babe. Of course, the mood that prompts you to resent your foster parents is common to your time of life. Nearly all adolescent children take a morbid pleasure, whenever they are frustrated in doing something they want to do, in thinking that their parents are not their real parents, but that they are do-gooders who picked them up somewhere. And they all toy with the thought of running away and seeking these mythical parents whom they always picture as millionaires.

Try to get over this silly idea and to realize that you never can be grateful enough to the people who took you as a nameless and homeless baby and who have given you a mother's and a father's care.

Health Services Reviewed at Meeting

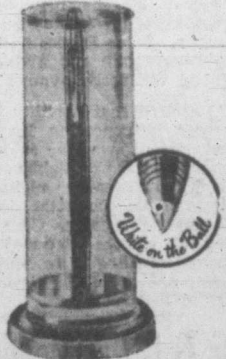

Services of the district nurse should be augmented and facilities extended so that all citizens, regardless of financial status, may be helped, was the opinion expressed by Miss Meta Hodge, retired school nurse, in an address to the Women's Round Table Wednesday evening.

Miss Hodge pointed out the inadequacy of the personnel of the district nursing service in big rural areas and said the public has been informed that the cost of health service is not prohibitive.

The wide gap between government provision for the health of the child and their concern for the mental and physical health of the mother, or married women in general, was shown by the speaker. She suggested the appointment of a trained gynecologist to work with public health units.

Miss Bessie Snyder spoke on the mother's pension and family allowances in relation to the main topic, "Freedom of Married Women." A concise picture of the effect on the child through these services was given, and Miss Snyder said a "Save the WELL, a food chemist would say... almost 8% butterfat, about 6% protein, about 10% milk sugar, about 2% minerals... and that's fully twice the amounts you would find in regular milk. For Carnation Milk is regular pasteurized milk with enough of the natural water taken out to double its food values. And it has a big extra share of "sunshine" vitamin D. So whenever you want more food value, use Carnation as it pours from the can; for regular milk use, add an equal quantity of water. Carnation is Canada's largest-selling brand of evaporated milk.

The Abbot ordered Coffee before Prayers!

An early coffee legend tells of a Mohammedan abbot who felt drowsy during prayers in the Mosque.

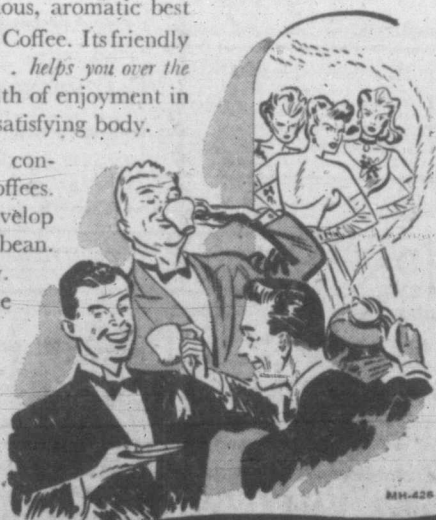

After trying the newly-discovered coffee drink, he was able to give keen attention to his religious duties. Believing this to be a direct revelation from Mohammed, he ordered his monks to drink coffee before attending services.

Canvass Red Cross Supporters

A short, intensive campaign for Red Cross members is the plan of Mrs. Hobart Molson, chairman of the committee which will send 60 canvassers through residential districts of Greater Victoria next week.

Calls will be made upon Red Cross supporters in the partial canvass which Mrs. Molson and her workers hope to have completed by March 23. From this date until March 31, canvassers will check calls already made.

Maj.-Gen. R. O. Alexander, campaign chairman, said today the Victoria Red Cross would also conduct a canvass by mail through which it is planned to contact 25,000 new members.

He said Maj. J. P. Simon would head the committee which will get in touch with downtown business firms during the campaign. "There's a 'floor' on donations which entitles the giver to membership," said Maj.-Gen. Alexander. "That 'floor' is $1, the minimum donation which provides a year's membership.

"But there's no ceiling," he added, "and we're hoping for many larger subscriptions through the drive."

He stressed that the Canadian Red Cross would spend $16,000,000 this year. Of this, $8,000,000 would go for relief supplies and services in Europe. These would be distributed by the Red Cross through its own organizations in Europe. Part of the sum would be spent, he said, in countries where "Unrra" is not functioning.

Another $4,000,000 would go toward servicemen and their dependents, with a large amount being spent on lodges such as the one planned for Victoria Veterans' Hospital and for services to British war brides.

The remainder of the budget, $4,000,000, will be used for peace-time works of the Red Cross such as blood transfusion services and outpost hospitals.

Trade Officials Coming On Visit

The eight, who recently completed a course in the department of trade and commerce at Ottawa, are R. C. Smith, who will go to Cairo; H. W. Richardson, to Bogota; B. I. Rankin, to Sydney, Australia; D. B. Mundy, to Liverpool; D. S. Armstrong, to Johannesburg; G. F. G. Hughes, to Glasgow; G. A. Browne, to Bombay, and W. E. Joliffe, to Shanghai.

They will visit the plant of the British America Paint Company Ltd. during their visit to Victoria, interview Hon. E. C. Carson, trade industry minister, and other government officials, and will be entertained at a luncheon given in their honor by the provincial department of trade and industry.

Plan Maintenance Of Sidney's Main Street

SIDNEY — Need for maintenance of Sidney's main street, Beacon Avenue, was discussed at a meeting of the Sidney Businessmen's Association, Thursday, and G. A. Cochran and D. A. Smith were appointed to investigate the possibility of assessing businessmen a certain fixed sum each month to cover the cost of hiring a man.

The fixed sum will also incorporate the costs of street lighting. It was pointed out that all business would benefit from a clean and tidy Beacon Avenue.

Mining Rivaling Gold Rush Foreseen

Mining development rivaling the gold rush days was predicted for the near future in British Columbia by Louis LeBourdais, Coalition, Cariboo, at the first meeting yesterday of the legislative standing committee on mines and railways.

Biggest development in history of lode and placer gold mining is beginning in the Cariboo now that wartime restrictions have been lifted, he said. He also predicted that the Cariboo's huge deposits of diamantaceous earth, enough for hundreds of years, would be extensively used as a basis for fertilizer. This development would bring new freight for the P.G.E. Railway, he said.

Members of the research council and the Department of Mines will be asked to meet the committee to give information on the latest developments in the science of mining.

T. A. Love, Coalition, Grand Forks-Greenwood, was named chairman of the committee while J. L. Webster, Coalition, Rossland-Trail, was named secretary. Next meeting was left at the call of the chair.

Clears Sheriff In Eviction Inquiry

P. A. White, Vancouver barrister appointed by Attorney-General R. L. Maitland to inquire into the Chen eviction case in Vancouver last Nov. 2, today reported that the sheriff and his officers should be given the active protection and assistance of the police force so that a recurrence of such an episode as occurred that day would not be possible.

Mr. White described the episode as being "brought about by unreasonable and unthinking people who have as their objective a breach of the peace and a flouting of constituted authority."

"I would recommend also that at all evictions in which it is necessary to remove furniture and effects that the sheriff provide for himself and his deputies all necessary tools and equipment so that all articles may be more easily handled and possibility of damage eliminated, and that the deputies insofar as possible should be skilled men," said Mr. White.

He found that Frank A. Kelly, late sheriff for Vancouver, was not drunk and that the sheriff and his deputies used only such force as was necessary for the purpose of gaining entrance to the house.

CHINESE SAMPANS HELP SOLVE HOUSING SHORTAGE

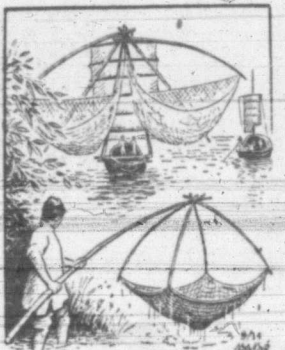

In many cities and towns on this continent, there is a housing shortage. Millions of soldiers have come back from the war, and have been looking for places to buy or rent, often without success.

Over in China there is a housing shortage which existed long before the Second World War started. Indeed it has been going on for time untold.

The Chinese have used a very special method of meeting their need for living space. Hundreds of thousands of them have made their homes on water. Using boats of one kind or another, they have taken up quarters and have spent year after year floating about.

The common houseboats of the Chinese are known as "sampans." These boats differ a great deal in length, some measuring only 15 or 18 feet while others are from 30 to 50 feet long.

A sampan may have a single sail, but often it is propelled with a kind of oar, or with poles which are pushed against the bottom of the river or canal. The oar, or scull, is worked at the rear, and serves as a rudder as well as being used to make the boat move.

Scene on Chinese river, showing fishing nets.

There is a cabin on the sampan, and this is used as a sleeping room for the family.

You may see a Chinese woman with a baby strapped on her back while she manages the scull. Some of the small children are kept "on the leash," ropes being tied to them so they may be kept from falling overboard. Another safety measure is to tie a board, or a small barrel, to a child's back so he will have a life preserver if he slips into the water.

When I made a trip from the island of Hongkong to the mainland, I was taken across the water on a sampan for a small fee.

People on sampans spend much time fishing. Sometimes they use

Where Has Wire From Dallas Fence Gone?

An investigation will be made into what has happened to sections of the wire fence along Dallas Road which used to keep cars and people off the Clover Point rifle range, Mayor Percy George said today.

Because of a large number of complaints about noise and rowdiness occasioned by cars going through holes in the fence near Cook and May Streets, Mayor George wrote M.D. No. 11 to find nets to capture the fish. If they get more than are needed for food they sell them at market.

Certain boats in the rivers are fitted with large nets which, the fishing is over, are held high above the water with the help of poles tied to the top of the mast.

out if the fence could be repaired, or why sections had been removed.

Today Lt.-Col. A. O. Hood, commanding fixed defences of the west coast, R.C.A., replied, stating that the fence was there when the military authorities took over, and if it has been removed it must have been done by the city. He asked that an explanation be made as to who removed the fence and on what authority.

Mayor George said he would turn the whole matter over to the parks committee for investigation and report.

Public Meeting On Recreation March 28

Mayor Percy E. George will preside at a public meeting called to consider a community-wide program of recreation for Greater Victoria, March 28, at 1052 Fort Street.

Dr. G. M. Shrum, director, extension department, U.B.C.,

Jerry Mathison, director, recreational and physical education branch, Department of Education, and Dr. Henrietta Anderson, vice-principal of the Victoria Normal School, will be guest speakers.

"From time to time the need for a recreation council has been expressed and since recreation, in one form or another, affects every individual in the community, it is felt that all organizations should gather for the purpose of discussing the promotion and possible co-ordination of leisure-time activities of all kinds for the various age groups," Mrs. M. A. Hurst, secretary of the organizing committee for recreation, said today.

Organizations throughout the city have been invited to send two delegates.

Winch Condemns Conditions In Provincial Mental Home

Conditions in the provincial mental home at Colquitz were condemned in the B.C. Legislature Wednesday by E. E. Winch, C.C.F. Burnaby, the House's self-appointed chief critic of social conditions in the province, who charged the building had been originally designed as a prison and still was a prison.

Opening the budget address debate in the absence of his son, Opposition Leader Harold E. Winch, Mr. Winch said that during the 12 years he had been in the Legislature no comment during the budget address had one iota of effect on the budget.

Mental health, he said, was a greater problem in British Columbia than in any other province. He added that the population of B.C.'s mental hospitals today was 4,019, an increase of 1,469 or 57 per cent during the past 14 years or 456 per cent since 1911. The province's population has increased by 109 per cent since 1911, he said.

"I unreservedly condemn the conditions that exist in that institution," said Mr. Winch of the Colquitz mental home.

MINISTER OBJECTS
Provincial Secretary George S. Pearson rose to emphasize that he did not want any reflection on the staff for Colquitz was "an exceptionally well operated institution."

"It should not be continued in use as an institution," said Mr. Winch, adding that patients were confined in cells with iron bars in front of them.

Charging that no patients had been outside from the institution since last September, Mr. Winch said the ground floor was the only space where exercise was possible. Because there were no windows on this floor, it was impossible to see outside except through windows on the upper floors.

A patient, he said, had nothing to do but wait for the next meal and the undertaker.

"Can any of our members visualize those conditions?" he asked. "Can any of you visualize how anyone could get better?"

Mr. Winch said it was a disgrace on the Legislature that no permanent psychiatrist was on the staff of the Colquitz institution because broken minds took a great deal of individual attention to mend. He said the patients should be given something to do.

Reporting on conditions at Esquimalt, Mr. Winch said use of mechanical restraint was unnecessary, female nurses should be employed in all wards, a halfway house was needed to separate patients started on the road to recovery from other patients and the public should be given more protection against commitment of persons who should never be sent to the home.

Mr. Winch blamed the medical profession for a lack of psychologists and nurses with training in psychology.

STATE MEDICINE

Previously Mr. Winch had said there were 1,220 doctors authorized to practice in British Columbia, which represented one doctor for every 760 persons. Young medical men, he said, would in his opinion view state medicine more favorably than their predecessors.

"When more medical men come back and the competition is keener, I think the medical men themselves will want a state system," he said, adding such a system would assure the physician a 44-hour work week and a steady income.

He was challenged by Dr. J. J. Gillis, Coalition, Yale, on his statement that the College of Physicians and Surgeons of B.C. had no reciprocal arrangement with the United Kingdom to permit British physicians to practice here without taking an examination for the certificate of the Medical Council of Canada.

To provide a home for senior citizens, Mr. Winch offered to raise $25,000 for a bungalow court if the government would match his sum dollar for dollar.

Charging the approach to social problems was wrong since so many criminals returned to jail, Mr. Winch cited the case of a woman charged with vagrancy in Victoria, released on her own recognizance and given a ticket to Vancouver. She arrived in Vancouver with 25 cents, he said.

"That is no way to cope with the problem," he said, adding that the Victoria police had washed their hands of it.

He advocated a censorship board, on which the P.T.A. would be represented, to classify films as suitable for general showing and not suitable for youth.

"Unless something is done we must not be surprised if the problem of delinquency instead of becoming less will become greater," he said.

Esquimalt Member Asks War Allowance For Municipality

C. T. Beard, Coalition member for Esquimalt, Wednesday asked the B.C. government to make a special allowance for Esquimalt municipality to compensate for the heavy burden the municipality had to bear during the war.

Mr. Beard described the responsibility fundamentally and legally that of the Dominion government, but since representations of both Premier John Hart and R. W. Mayhew, Victoria M.P., had failed, he asked the provincial government to make special allowances for his constituency's roads. He added that the municipality had received shabby treatment from both the Dominion and provincial governments.

Not only had the Dominion government taken over a large portion of the municipality on which it paid no taxes, but military vehicles used the municipality's roads.

The municipality, he said, received no benefit from the presence of the Dominion government's establishments in Esquimalt, for not 20 per cent of the civilian personnel of H.M.C. Dockyard lived in Esquimalt and not one cent of contracts per year went to Esquimalt firms, since all large orders went to Victoria, Vancouver and eastern firms.

He suggested the tax rate of the municipality was the highest in the province.

Second speaker in the budget address debate, Mr. Beard also asked that some consideration be

Suggests Citizens Raise Hats When Passing War Memorial

To make the Victoria cenotaph something more than a heap of stone, C. T. Beard, a veteran of two wars who lost his only son in the sinking of H.M.S. Hood, Wednesday urged in the B.C. Legislature that men raise their hats while passing the memorial honoring those who fell in the 1914-18 and the 1939-45 wars.

The custom, the Coalition member for Esquimalt said, was carried on in London and if adopted by members of the Legislature now it might be continued by others.

Visibly moved as he spoke, Mr. Beard said:

"War is man gone mad. We are here to prepare for peace. That peace was not bought cheaply."

Wants Government Include Insurance In Public Services

The contentious liquor question, avoided by all legislators but one during the Throne speech debate, was uncapped in the B.C. Legislature Wednesday, but the effect, like the opening of a cold bottle of beer, was only slightly effervescent.

First discussed during the present session by C. W. Morrow, Coalition, North Okanagan, liquor was brought up again by an opposition member, J. H. Corsbie, C.C.F., Peace River, during the budget address debate.

Prefacing his address with words of praise for the budget, Mr. Corsbie didn't like 20 per cent of the revenue coming from liquor.

Liquor profits, he suggested, were possibly a fine way to raise money for if a person drank he could help support the government.

"Can we continue to allow drink to be consumed in this province to the extent where it spoils lives?" he asked.

Admitting it was impossible to halt drinking legislation, he said the government must do something about it.

While the government now could dip into war reserves, in the future other sources of revenue might be needed, Mr. Corsbie said, suggesting the government go into business, including the insurance business, but not just to make money but to provide more services.

He urged free tolls on bridges, maintenance of prices to insure a fair return for the farmers' labor, equalization of freight rates, payment of income tax by farmers on a five-year average yearly income, appointment of more district agriculturists, completion of soil surveys before settlement of land by farmers, a longer period than two years to complete payments for land clearing assistance from the government and encouragement by the government to youths to take training in veterinary.

McKellar Traces Atomic History

How atoms were first disintegrated in the laboratory was outlined by Dr. Andrew McKellar of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory Wednesday evening before the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, Victoria Centre, at Victoria College.

Dr. McKellar told how the laboratory experiments led up to the discovery in 1939 of the fission of uranium. He sketched present ideas of the structure of atoms showing the part played by the elementary particles, the positively-charged proton, the negatively-charged electron and the neutron with no electric charge.

"Splitting up of uranium," said Dr. McKellar, "gave the key to the secret of obtaining energy from the nucleus of the atom. This nuclear energy is of the order of 10,000,000 to 100,000,000 times as great as ordinary electronic or molecular energy exemplified by, say burning coal or oil."

He explained that after secrecy was imposed on the results of nuclear research in 1940 tremendous efforts were made to perfect the atomic bomb.

There were three main possibilities, he said, for the peaceful utilization of nuclear energy. It could be used as a source of industrial power, to provide new radio-active substances for medical research and to provide new material for research in basic physics.

given side roads in his constituency, and he described the Jordan River road as a disgrace.

Beside requests of the public works department, Mr. Beard asked irrigation, district agriculturists and school demonstration plots for his constituency. Until a water board was set up, he suggested, water problems of the Greater Victoria area would always be contentious.

By PETE SALLAWAY

EVIDENCE that another hockey season is rapidly nearing its close and sports fans can start to think about baseball, tennis and other summer activities, is seen by the fact that all-star National Hockey League selections are making their appearance. In high today are two all-star aggregations, one selected by Foster Hewitt and several name players in the league, the other picked by the six coaches in the world's number one hockey circuit. Both selections were made on behalf of nationally prominent magazines.

BACK AFTER a five-year absence, Maclean's all-stars hand the complete all-star forward line spot to Chicago's ace string—Max and Doug Bentley and Bill Mosienko. Defence positions go to Emile (Butch) Bouchard of Montreal Canadiens and Jack Stewart of Detroit Red Wings. The goal position is split between Canadiens' Bill Durnan and Detroit's Harry Lumley. Voting was on the basis of one point for a first-team vote, two for a second-team vote and three points for each vote for the third forward line; 18 points was highest possible; Max Bentley came closest with 16 points. Mosienko had 13; Stewart 14; Doug Bentley and Bouchard 13 each and Durnan and Lumley 11 each.

ANNUAL selection as published by Liberty gives the forward positions to Max Bentley and Mosienko and Gaye Stewart of Toronto Maple Leafs. Defence berths go to Stewart and Jack Crawford of Boston Bruins while Durnan holds down the goalie's berth. However, the most important of the all-star selections, that made by the sports writers for the Canadian Press, has yet to make its appearance. A new system is being adopted this season with the all-star selections to be announced following the Stanley Cup playoffs. In previous years the team was named at the conclusion of the regular league.

CANADA'S Ted Atkinson appears a cinch to capture riding honors for the rich Santa Anita meeting which closes Saturday. The Toronto-born youngster held a comfortable margin today with only two days of racing remaining on the program. While Atkinson rode only three winners last week he is still the pacemaker with 68 firsts, 45 seconds and 35 thirds. Johnny Longden last week booted home seven winners and up to the time of writing boasted a record of 51 winners, 46 seconds and 37 thirds. No doubt Atkinson and Longden will move north and continue their riding duel at the Bay Meadows track.

Badminton Resumes High Place In Sports Life of Canadians

TOBONTO (CP)—Introduced a month ago at Montreal, in the first of the series, Cutts topped the former three-time Dominion amateur champion 15-5, 16-6.

Before the Second Great War, clubs flourished in every town across the Dominion, and inter-club rivalry was keen. Waning shortages of racquets and shuttlecocks—or "birds" as they are more popularly known—put a crimp in badminton activities. But revival of world professional play has signalled the return of the popular indoor pastime.

The fact that the world professional title belonged to a Canadian—Jack Purcell—for 13 years and that two Canadians—Doug Grant and Stan Cutts—have just completed a series to decide a new champion, is indicative that Canada is one of the leading countries in the sport-world province of badminton.

Cutts succeeded in capturing the title vacated by Purcell by winning the second match of a best-of-three series 15-0, 15-2. Falling back to almost total defensive play, the Toronto pro was master of the situation from start to finish, committing only two faults which accounted for Grant's only points in the match.

Saanich Schools Win in Cup Soccer

A greater city schools Fragments Cup soccer semifinal played Wednesday resulted in Saanich students gaining a 4 to 0 triumph over Victoria City. Saanich bagged a single tally in the first half and added three in the final session.

Oak Bay and Esquimalt will battle Friday at Windsor Park in another semifinal. Game will start at 3:45. Winner will meet Saanich in the final.

Betts and Clarke tallied two markers apiece to account for the Saanich total. While Saanich had a margin in territorial play, Victoria experienced bad luck missing several opportunities to crash the scoreboard. Betts, Saanich left half, and Gardier, the goalie, were two stumbling blocks Victoria boys found in their way consistently. They averaged many tries to score. Betts' second goal was from a penalty kick.

Chenier, Snooker Champion, Gives Clever Exhibition

Highlighting his performance with a break of 78, George Chenier, holder of the Canadian snooker championship, defeated three local opponents in exhibition matches Wednesday night at the Northwestern Billiard Parlor.

Against Bert Irish, well-known Victoria English billiards star, Chenier rang up victories by scores of 107 to 19, 94 to 37 and 95 to 20. Taking the table against Percy Fitzsimmons, the Dominion champ took two games 93 to 21 and 86 to 25. In a fifth game Chenier beat Johnny Field 63 to 25.

In addition to the 78 Chenier had breaks of 41, 40 and 30.

Chenier proved himself a master of position play and in making his 78 he left himself in perfect position for every shot. He wound up his show with a brilliant exhibition of trick shots that drew the plaudits of the large crowd.

Tomorrow evening at 7:30 Chenier will play at the Metropolitan Billiard Parlor, while at 9 he will give an exhibition at the Pro Patria Branch of the Canadian Legion. Saturday night, starting at 8, he will show at the Tillikum Athletic Club in an exhibition for members only.

Victoria-Oak Bay Tie

A hard battle was the order Wednesday afternoon as Victoria and Oak Bay High Schools' rugby squads met in a crucial battle for possession of the coveted Greater Victoria high schools supremacy symbol on the rugger field, the Russell Cup. But the struggle ended in a 6 to 6 sawoff and no clear-cut individual winner was declared. The two schools will have possession of the trophy six months apiece.

This was the third and final game of the cup series. Victoria taking the first and Oak Bay the second.

Oak Bay, coached by Hugh Farquhar, had a three-point edge when the interval arrived, the score reading 6 to 3, but Joe Roberts' Victoria High club succeeded in penetrating for the tie score after a heavy and prolonged second half offensive. Both team coaches were pleased with the showing of their boys in this important struggle.

JOYE SCORES

Tommy Joyce was the first to break scoring ice. This hard-playing Vic High lad followed up on Len's kick, snared and wound up by going over to touch-down. Following this, Farquhar's youthful warriors surged onto the offensive, carried leather deep into Victoria's area. Don McNeill looked to be heading over for paydirt, but was brought up short in a collision with an up-right. Quite a scramble ensued and it resulted in a penalty kick award for Oak Bay and Allan Barnes lifted the leather between the sticks to tie the score.

The most spectacular individual run took place before the half. Oak Bay forward Blair Beaton starred in this scene, dashing solo 40 yards to touch-down behind the line. The conversion failed.

The whole Victoria forward line took credit for the try that came before the game's finish to leave things in a knot on the scoreboard. Roberts' boys blasted their way into the two-bit area and after several attempts finally succeeded in making their objective. Joyce's conversion attempt failed. After this score all further attempts by both squads failed to break the tie.

Teams follow:
Oak Bay—Main, Pratt, McNeill, Burland, Prevost, Edlin, Mill, Stephenson, Waters, Boston, Bate, Priestwerck, Barnes, Roberts and Davidson.
Victoria: Donald, Lott, Castner, Clever, Thompson, Joyce, Murdoch, Smith, Booth, Lee, Dolan, Wyckoff, Robinson, Kelsay and Henderson.

Games involving navy in the schedule will be played out at the navy grounds, while others will be run off at Central Park.

Bishop reported that the main idea of this spring season of play is to size things up for a much more active league in the fall. If there are two teams fairly

Koenigs is reported to be a good hitter. Earlier in the week it was announced the Victoria club had secured the services of Ian (Ace) Lowe former member of the V.M.D. club in the local amateur league. Dominoes, K.V.'s Register Wins In Exhibition Games

Wednesday night's basketball program to wit—Joe Sparks, Canadian Legion player—who suffered a broken ankle some weeks ago, resulted in raising $98.75 and Sparks will be presented with a cheque for $100 by the Victoria and District Basketball League.

Two games saw the Dominions turn back the Canadian Legion, island senior B champions, 64 to 45, and K.V.'s seniors defeat a combined Alcos-Black and Whites aggregation 38 to 30.

With Norm Baker back in scoring stride to hit the hoop for 26 points, Dominions had little trouble finishing on the right end of the scoresheet. Legion managed to hold their opponents to a three-point edge, 21 to 18, in the first half, only to have the Dominions put on the pressure in the final 40 minutes. Ollie Goldsmith led the Legion offensive with 18 points.

Grabbing off an early lead K.V.'s were never threatened in their exhibition against Black and Whites. Ron Castner paced the K.V.'s scoring parade with 14 points, while Vince Clarkson was high man for Black and Whites with 11.

Baseball Briefs

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Outfielder Jeff Heath twisted his ankle yesterday as Washington Senators beat the Cuban all-stars 13 to 6 in an exhibition baseball game. The Fort William, Ont., native, blasted a two-run homer over the right field fence in the first inning, but turned his ankle rounding first base.

ANAHEIM, Calif.—Gate receipts probably will decide St. Louis Browns' future policy about training on the west coast, but manager Luke Sewell's mind was made up on the matter today. A good run of weather, a well-kept infield and outfield, and big league clubhouse facilities, prompted Sewell to declare "nobody is getting hurt from the conditions so often found in spring camps. We should be in A-1 shape when we get going. The fellows show it already. With weather like this every year, this would be the ideal training camp."

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Shortstop Marty Marion has reported to St. Louis Cardinals' training camp. His arrival after signing a contract last week, left third baseman George (Whitey) Kurovski the only Cardinal still unsigned.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—If Phil Marchildon, Canadian war veteran, "can pitch the way he did in 1942," says Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, "I'll be glad to tear up his contract and give him more money." Marchildon, who signed yesterday for $7,500, though he asked for $12,000, won 17 games and lost 14 in 1942.

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP)—If manager Billy Southworth's actions speak louder than his words, he has made up his mind about four of his Boston Braves' regular berths Johnny McCarthy will be his first baseman, Connie Ryan his second sacker, Johnny Hopp his centre fielder, and Bama Rowell his left-fielder.

No Rugby Games Carded Saturday

There will be no rugby action this Saturday, Roel McInnes, secretary of the Victoria Rugby Union, reported today. Next rugby highlight in Victoria will be the clash between J.B.A.A. and Varsity on March 23 for possession of the Rounsfell Cup, symbolical of the B.C. club championship.

In the place of the usual rugby card at Macdonald Park Saturday will be an intercity soccer match between V.M.D. all-stars and visiting Kerrisdale.

Rangers Blast Boston Hopes for Ice Title

Chicago Black Hawks, than which they'll tell you in Chicago there is no better All-Star team in the National Hockey League, can still do it—wind up the season in first place.

Currently Johnny Gottselig's Hawks, winners 9 to 4 over Detroit Red Wings last night, are in third place a point back of Boston, but—and this is important—they have three games to play, where the Bruins who lost 5 to 3 to New York Rangers last night, have only one more regular game this season.

Not that the Chicago threat is so very great to Dick Irvin's league-leading Montreal Canadiens, five points ahead of the Hawks. Canadiens also have three games left.

Defeat at the hands of Rangers left Boston a perilous second and dashed any hope the Bruins may have had of ending the league season on top. To the end of the second period, and for a bare two minutes of the third, Bruins looked all right. They led at that point by three goals over the last place Rangers.

Then Rangers went to town on goals by Grant Warwick, Ab Demarco, Gardner and Alfie Pike and drowned out any hopes of Boston victory held by 13,900 Boston fans.

SIX GOAL SPLURGE

Six second-period Chicago goals proved too much for Detroit Red Wings who never looked at any time as though they should worry Hawks too greatly.

Chicagoans, who fancy this edition of the Hawks, came to watch to the number* of 16,336, bringing seasonal attendance to 440,049, and showing that in Chicago at least there is general agreement with the tub-thumping of Joe Farrell, the Hawks' publicist who would have nobody look farther than this very team for all star selections.

Summaries follow:

Oaklands School Fire Trap, Unsanitary, Claims P.-T.A.

Charges that heating arrangements and faulty light switches made Oaklands School a fire trap, and that inadequate and "filthy toilet facilities" were a menace to the health of the children; were made by a delegation of five members of the Oaklands P.T.A., to Wednesday night's meeting of the Victoria School Board. The delegation, headed by F. Marshall, demanded that the board take immediate steps to have these conditions remedied and also to add at least another six rooms to the school.

Other members of the delegation were Mrs. S. Anfield, Mrs. R. W. Tomlinson, R. G. Greech and T. J. Inkpen.

The main cause of the trouble was that there were 610 pupils attending a school adequate to take care of 420, Mr. Marshall pointed out. He stressed the need for more accommodation being imperative because it is in this district that the 150 war-time houses for veterans are going up, as well as many other new homes, many of which will house school-age children.

Referring to the toilet facilities he dubbed them "definitely inadequate, unsatisfactory, unclean, unsuited for children of that age, and should be ripped out and replaced with more modern equipment." He and two other members of the delegation said they had forbidden their children to use these facilities because of the filthy conditions.

SWITCHES LOOSE

Practically all the electric light switches are loose in the school, he charged, making a definite fire hazard and a danger to the children from possible shocks.

"The lighting is not by any means modern and should be replaced with fluorescent lighting," he declared. In answer to a question from Trustee Waldo Skilling he admitted that much of the damage was probably caused by vandalism on the part of the children, but pointed out that this did not lessen the hazard.

When board members expressed surprise that these conditions had not been called to their attention by the school principal or janitor, Mr. Marshall said he did not know why either, but as an electrician he knew that the conditions were dangerous and he would not allow them in his own home.

The fire hazard occasioned by having stoves in the classrooms of the shingled annex at the back was also emphasized by Mr. Marshall. "When we consider that this building houses the primary and preprimary grades," he declared, "one can imagine the terrible results here if a fire of any magnitude did occur—a frame shingled structure, and on a windy day it would prove a funeral pyre for a great many children."

The need for a lunch room, which the delegation claimed had been promised by the board, was also stressed, as was the need for establishing domestic science and manual training facilities at the school, which have been sought for 27 years.

WANT PARK INCLUDED

The suggestion was made that Spencer Park be included in the school grounds, and one block of Ryan Street be shut off so that the children would not have to cross the road. Chairman Austin Curtis pointed out that this was a city council matter, and it was possible the board and the P.T.A. might make a joint representation to the council to have this done if the park is not dedicated.

Mr. Curtis assured Mr. Marshall that the board was cognizant of many of the matters raised in the brief, and that plans for additional building at Oaklands were under consideration. Seven hundred dollars had been allotted in the 1946 estimates for the fixing up of the heating system, he said.

R. H. Smith, building and grounds superintendent, said that an electrician and plumber had been working on schools full time for the past while and had completely checked three schools. He had figured on doing Oaklands in two or three months, but in view of the complaints will inspect the school immediately. Board members arranged to go to the school Saturday afternoon and make a thorough inspection of conditions there.

Another charge made by the delegation was that the fire hydrant was so tied up with string that it would be impossible to use it in the event of fire. Last inspection by the fire department was made in October, it was reported.

War Assets Has No School Materials

There is little hope of securing much worthwhile material for Victoria schools through War Assets Corporation, it was reported by Wednesday's school board meeting by Trustee Miss Isla Tuck, chairman of the education committee. The committee has received a number of communications from the Department of Education to this effect, she said.

Attendance in the schools for February was 5,131, a decrease of 25 from January and a decrease of 42 from February 1945.

Night school will close March 21 and March 22, it was reported, and total net fees received this year have been $5,057.

A suggestion was received from George Smith, that club swinging be inaugurated in the schools, but the education committee recommended that the idea be turned down at the present time.

A letter was received from Dr. K. O. Wright, local president of the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, about the possibility of placing an observatory dome on one of the new Victoria school buildings. This matter was turned over to the new schools plans committee for consideration.

The purchase of a new power lawn mower for $645 was authorized.

The Gyo Club was granted permission to use the Central Junior High School grounds for the evenings of July 3 to 6 inclusive for the annual hot-in-one tournament to raise funds for the Solarium.

Welcome Home Day On July 1

Plans are being laid to have the final "welcome home" celebration for all men in this area who served in the armed forces either on July 1, or on a proclaimed "Victory Day." It was decided Wednesday afternoon by the Greater Victoria war veterans' reception committee, Ald. B. J. Gadsden, committee chairman, announced.

A special committee of representatives from veterans' organizations has been instructed to make plans for the celebrations which will be staged at Beacon Hill Park, and to report back to the main committee as soon as possible.

The offer of the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council to distribute the certificates of welcome signed by the mayor and reeves, to each ex-serviceman, was accepted. The committee will bear all costs.

Those attending the committee in addition to Ald. Gadsden were Ald. F. G. Mulliner; Councilor R. A. E. Wootton for Oak Bay; Councilor J. P. A. Christensen for Esquimalt; Mrs. Carl Pallas, R. Knight, and J. Law-Beattie for the Canadian Legion; J. C. Rivers, Army and Navy Veterans; Joe Wittcomb, Naval Veterans; A. Palmer, Amputations' Society, and Forrest L. Shaw, citizens' rehabilitation council.

Film Board Review Shows Big Expansion

A showing of films related to the activities of provincial government departments was attended last night at the Empress Hotel by members of the Legislature and government officials. "Valley of the Tennessee" outlined benefits of ample hydro-electric power and organized community development in agricultural areas. "School Days in the Country" showed what can be done in rural schools to protect the health of children and raise health standards of the whole community. "Library on Wheels" was a pictorial record of the Fraser Valley traveling library, which has become a model for the rest of the country, and "Tomorrow's Timber," a colored film, told of conservation and protection of natural resources. C. W. Marshall, Victoria representative of the National Film Board, outlined the growth of visual education in the province in the past year. In addition to the 12 full-time operators on rural, industrial and trade union circuits in British Columbia, the board had assisted in setting up 20 community film services, operated by volunteers.

In addition, 14 centres had pioneered a circulating film library, whereby programs of different films were circulated every two months, thus ensuring a continuous supply of fresh subjects.

Hon. Herbert Anscomb, minister of public works, expressed appreciation for the showing.

Pringle W. Ramage and Roy S. Ainsworth were sentenced to 30 days at hard labor in city police court today on a charge of stealing an alarm clock and a bottle of lotion from Theresa Frenette, 925 Johnson Street, Monday. The accused were convicted of the charge Wednesday. Detective Louis Callon testified finding the clock and lotion in their possession.

Henry Rive, Dairy Commissioner in B.C. For 30 Years, Passes

LATE HENRY RIVE

Dairy commissioner for the B.C. government for 30 years, Henry Rive, 64, a native of Jersey, Channel Islands, died Wednesday at his home at Patricia Bay.

Mr. Rive was well known by dairymen throughout the province and had watched the industry grow to its present proportions. He went overseas with the 62nd Battery in the First Great War and was quartermaster-sergeant in France.

Funeral services will be conducted from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel at 3 Friday afternoon.

Beside his widow, Edith, Mr. Rive leaves one sister, Miss Louise Rive, and a brother, Elias Rive, both in Vancouver.

Churchill Prepares Broadcast Friday; To Discuss Speech

LONDON (CP)—British newspapers today criticized Premier Stalin for his attack on Winston Churchill and called for a Big Three meeting soon to attempt to improve relations between Russia and her two wartime allies.

A foreign office spokesman said there probably would be no official comment on Stalin's statements, since Mr. Churchill has no status in the government. Official circles indicated that the former prime minister would be left to speak for himself. He is scheduled to broadcast a speech of "world importance" from New York City Friday night, authoritative sources there said.

The Mutual Broadcasting System said Mr. Churchill would discuss in his half-hour speech "latest developments" in connection with his recent Fulton, Mo., address. He is scheduled to start speaking at 7.30 p.m., P.S.T. (The importance of what he will say will be heightened by the presence on the dais with him of 42 Ambassadors and Ministers to the United States, as well as official representatives of the United Nations' Organization. It is still uncertain whether Andrei A. Gromyko, Russian Ambassador, will attend.)

SHARPEST ATTACK
Stalin's remarks, which were in the form of an interview Wednesday with the Communist Party newspaper Pravda, were described in a dispatch from Moscow as the sharpest attack the Russian leader had ever made on anyone except a foe during wartime.

Stalin accused Mr. Churchill of spreading "lies" in his Fulton, Mo., speech-March 5, in which Mr. Churchill proposed a virtual British-U.S. military alliance. Stalin described Mr. Churchill as a "warmonger" and said the former British prime minister was asking for "war with the U.S.S.R."

SUGGEST CONFERENCE
Among the British newspapers urging a meeting of the Big Three were the Yorkshire Post and three London publications, the Daily Mail, the Daily Sketch and the Times.

The Daily Sketch declared Stalin's remarks were "unjust and violent in character," and asserted that "abuse is no effective answer to the vital points" raised by Mr. Churchill at Fulton.

The Times said the "moment has been reached—a little more than six months after the final defeat of the enemy—when an international agreement between the partners in victory is openly broken, and relations between them are being conducted in the naked terms of rival power."

The B.C. Aviation Council is being incorporated the city council was informed today. The city is asked to take out a membership in the organization.

Stork Beats Apartment Ruling

Twenty-one of the Topaz Avenue suites have been occupied by veterans and their wives to date, Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, chairman of the housing committee, said today. Seven more are nearing completion but supply shortages may delay them.

Worst shortage encountered has been plumbing supplies, Ald. Dewar said, with electrical wiring also holding some of the suites up.

Plans are being made to build wood and coal sheds for those apartments which have not access to basement storage for their fuel, he said.

Despite the ruling that only childless couples can rent the apartments, the odd child seems to be getting in, he reported, and more are expected.

Municipalities Ask Higher Assessment Of Power Systems

Pole lines in municipalities should be assessed at their actual value rather than at $250 a mile or $400 a mile, depending on population, as at present, a delegation from the Union of British Columbia Municipalities submitted today to the municipal affairs committee of the Legislature.

The committee will hear representations from the power and light companies Monday morning on the subject.

A. deB. McPhillips, representing the B.C. Telephone Company, told the committee more title would be needed to prepare the power and light companies' representations on the subject.

Among other submissions made to the committee by the Union of British Columbia Municipalities was a request that municipalities be permitted to buy and sell property to the value of one dollar per capita without reference through by-laws to the ratepayers. At present the municipalities cannot buy or sell property in excess of $2,000 without referring to the ratepayers.

In this connection, Mayor Percy E. George cited an instance in which the Cameron Lumber Company had been obliged to wait 10 months to acquire a piece of property on Selkirk Water from the city, whereas under the dollar per capita system there would have been no delay.

LAND FOR PARKS
Other amendments requested by the municipalities would permit a municipality to expropriate land for park purposes and to make restrictions on the use of property sold to individuals.

Attending the meeting of the municipal affairs committee were Mr. McPhillips, for the B.C. Telephone Company; A. D. King, for the B.C. Electric Railway; F. W. Perkins, for the C.P.R.; A. J. Patton, Victoria city solicitor; Mayor Percy E. George, Victoria; Mayor N. C. Stibbs, Nelson, president of the Union of B.C. Municipalities; R. R. F. Sewell, secretary of the union; Mayor W. M. Moit, New Westminster; Reeve R. M. Grauer, Richmond; Aldermen S. L. Smith and C. D. McQuarrie, New Westminster, and A. D. McRae, Mission. B.C.'s race-horse training centre, feels it should receive some compensation for what it has to spend on extra policing and on its roads, Reeve R. M. Grauer told the municipal affairs committee. He asked that municipalities be empowered to set a $500-a-day license fee for horse racing.

Mayor George asked the Shops Regulation and Weekly Half-holiday Act be amended to permit compulsory closing of all shops of a certain trade if requested by 75 per cent of the proprietors of that group.

Sawmills Closed By Log Shortage

VANCOUVER (CP)—Several B.C. coast sawmills are closed down, due to a shortage of logs, towing men reported today.

Log-towing is in full swing again today, after several days' tie-up due to bad weather, but tug men say it is now unsuitable towing conditions that have created the log shortage. Lumber camps are just not producing sufficient logs to meet the demands of the mills, they state.

Approximately 300 delegates from United Churches throughout British Columbia will attend the annual B.C. conference of the United Church of Canada to open in St. Andrew's Wesley Church, Vancouver, May 15. All day sessions of the Lay Association of the conference will be held May 14.

Mayor Percy George has been asked by the Union of B.C. Municipalities to forward all particulars about financial responsibilities placed on the municipalities for the care of illegitimate children abandoned by parents. E. W. Griffith of the provincial welfare department requested the information.

Damage was considerable in the collision of cars driven by Alexander J. Mallory, Young Island, Sidney, and Charles J. Houghton, 3420 Uplands Road, at Port and Quadra Streets, Wednesday afternoon. In an accident on Douglas Street, near Hillside Avenue, this morning, a truck driven by Tika Singh, 116 Gorge Road, and a car driven by Bert Lyons, 2838 Murray Drive, were damaged slightly.

An well-dressed elderly woman was ordered to pay $1 costs when she pleaded guilty in city police court today to a charge of unlawfully picking daffodils in Beacon Hill Park. Parks superintendent Herb Warren testified seeing the woman pick several daffodils. Provincial eliminations for the Western Regional Drama Festival to be held in Winnipeg May 25 will be held in the University of British Columbia auditorium during the week ending May 11. One-Year Sentence For Store Break-in Sentences of one year at hard labor were imposed by Magistrate Henry C. Hall in city police court today on Harold Clarke, 19 years, and James R. Wakeman, 18, for breaking and entering the Quality Grocery, 1024 Finlayson Avenue, with theft on or after Feb. 25.

Both pleaded guilty to the charge on Tuesday. Two younger boys also pleaded guilty to the charge in juvenile court and were remanded until next Monday.

In passing sentence on Wakeman and Clarke, Magistrate Hall made reference to character evidence given on their behalf on Tuesday.

"It is the practice of the courts to place a great deal of importance on character evidence, which in your case was excellent," he said.

"But the facts remain that you deliberately planned this offence and it is a serious matter," the Magistrate concluded.

T.C.A. Opening New Offices to Cope With Development

Needing more office space to keep pace with the development of its Vancouver Island business, Trans-Canada Air Lines will shortly move its local headquarters to 916 Government Street, immediately across the street from the present location.

Jack Robinson, T.C.A. district manager, Vancouver, in town today, made the announcement. He was accompanied by Architect John Schofield, who will prepare plans for the modernization of the new offices. It is understood that the newest type of office front will be installed as well as complete renovation of the interior.

The staff will also be increased to take care of the steadily-increasing business, Mr. Robinson stated.

This afternoon, Mr. Robinson and Mr. Schofield left for Seattle with a view to establishing a T.C.A. office there. This, and the development here, presages early inauguration of the recently authorized service between Victoria and Seattle.

Questioned on this point, Mr. Robinson said he could not say at present when the daily flights between this city and Seattle would commence.

He applied to the city for permission to establish a loading zone in front of the new premises at 916 Government as soon as alterations and improvements are made and the air service between here and Seattle is inaugurated.

China Coaster Type Ship Built at V.M.D. Runs Trials Today

Second ship of the China coaster type built at the No. 2 yard of the Victoria Machinery Depot Ltd. was undergoing preliminary trials today. The vessel was launched as the Ottawa Painter, the first being the Ottawa Pasqua.

H. S. Hammill, V.M.D. general manager, said the 1,300-ton steel coasters were being tied up on completion pending disposal. Thirty ships of this type were ordered from Canadian shipyards, 15 on this coast and the same number in the east.

The vessels, known as the China coaster type, were ordered by the British government and the order was cancelled after V.J. Day. Mr. Hammill pointed out today, "The Chinese government, although reported so in some quarters, had absolutely nothing to do with the contracts."

When the British government cancelled the ships, the Canadian government decided to complete them. What will be done with these handy little vessels has yet to be determined. They probably will be disposed of by the War Assets Corporation. Some may yet find a place in the B.C. coasting trade.

30-Day Sentence In Assault Case
Found guilty on Wednesday of injuring Roy N. Mitchell in an assault at the Bridgewater Hotel, Store Street, Charles Brown was sentenced to 30 days at hard labor today in city police court.

Mitchell testified that Brown knocked him down and kicked him in the face each time he tried to get up. Both his eyes were blackened, he testified, and one of several cuts on his face required seven stitches.

Evidence showed the assault took place following a party.

In testifying Brown, Magistrate Henry C. Hall said that in assault cases a fine usually was fixed but, under the circumstances, he could not follow this procedure.

Tender Story Stars Margaret O'Brien

Margaret O'Brien is back again, and this time she is teamed with Edward G. Robinson in a gripping and tender story called "Our Vines Have Tender Grapes," which M-G-M currently is presenting at the Atlas Theatre.

The little star of "Music for Millions" and "Lost Angel" emphasizes again, and more strongly than ever, the really great talents which she possesses. She can make you cry, just as she wishes, by a simple change in her expression or a particular inflection in her voice. Working with that grand veteran actor Robinson, star of "Woman in the Window" and "Double Indemnity," Margaret is at her very best as a seven-year-old in a small Wisconsin town who understands the dangerous road which the self-centred men and women are taking to inevitable destruction.

William Kapell At Royal March 20

When William Kapell, in the spring of 1945, was about to embark for Australia, the first American pianist to have been invited there by the Australian Broadcasting Commission in six years, he was introduced "Down Under" by Eugene Ormandy, in a glowing talk via short-wave radio. The Musical Director of the Philadelphia Orchestra had been to Australia the year before and was speaking to a country which admired his art and respected his judgment. He began: "I should like to introduce to you a young American pianist who is about to depart for your shores—22-year-old William Kapell, a native New Yorker. In spite of his extreme youth he already ranks, in my opinion, among the giants of the piano."

Where To Go Tonight

ATLAS—"Our Vines Have Tender Grapes," starring Edward G. Robinson.
CAPITOL—"Kiss and Tell," starring Shirley Temple.
DOMINION—"People Are Funny," starring Jack Haley and Frances Langford.
OAK BAY-PLAZA—"My Name Is Julia Ross," starring Nina Foch.
RIO—"Rough, Tough and Ready," starring Chester Morris.
YORK—Ginger Rogers and Ray Milland in "The Major and the Minor."

Hollywood Column

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—One of the hottest feuds in Hollywood history is at an end. Bud Abbott and Lou Costello are buddies again and hard at the work of rebuilding their own careers.

Their squabble started last summer and was fomented by some bad advice. The boys were speaking to each other only on stage. There was talk of a permanent split and then they got back together. One of the reasons was a sagging box office.

"Our first 30 pictures were very successful," said Lou. "Then the box office returns started dropping. So we got together with the studio and decided to make a switch."

From now on they are playing not comic and straight man, but real characters.

"Bud was skeptical about making the change," Lou said, "but after we had made 'The Little Giant,' I was convinced he is an excellent actor. 'Giant,' their first departure from their usual selves, apparently justified their courage to change, because it has been well received in the trade press."

'Major and Minor' Now Showing at York

If you've kept an ear to the movie ground, you'll know that one of the funniest stories ever written for the films is now at the York Theatre. It is Paramount's hilarious comedy, "The Major and the Minor."

The picture, which co-stars Ginger Rogers and Ray Milland, is reputed to be a riot of laughs and unusual situations, all of which stem from Ginger's masquerade as a twelve-year-old so she can get from New York to her Iowa home by train on half fare. Milland, a major who teaches at a military academy, becomes embarrassingly involved when he helps her elude the suspicious conductors by taking her into his own compartment. His gullible acceptance of Ginger's fantastic stories—the romantic complications that develop when his fiancée discovers Ginger in his berth and it becomes necessary for him to take Ginger to the academy to prove that she is really only a "minor"—all add up to one of the grandest comedies ever.

CAPITOL THEATRE

"Kiss and Tell," with its heroine Corliss Archer, as magazine stories, stage play and radio program, has achieved an almost unprecedented success. However, it appears safe to venture the prediction that Columbia Pictures' screen presentation of "Kiss and Tell," currently showing at the Capitol Theatre, will outdo them all in popularity.

Shirley Temple has come into her own. The star, whom everyone adored as a curly-headed infant, will again captivate moviegoers in this her first real role since her childhood days. As Corliss Archer, she lives and breathes the part.

Dr. Petrie Gives Talk On Tides

Tidal energy expended on earth amounts to more than 2,100,000,000 horsepower in the everlasting movement of the waters of the globe, Dr. R. M. Petrie of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory told members of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club at a meeting in the clubhouse Wednesday night.

"It is practically impossible to harness any large part of this wasted energy, although it has been done on a small scale in England."

"This loss of energy is causing the earth to slow down in its rotation with the days and months getting longer," Dr. Petrie said, adding that the days were becoming longer only at the rate of one 1-1,000th of a second every 100 years.

He discussed the tidal differences found between Victoria and Clayoquot, Vancouver Island. He said that Victoria had one rise and one fall daily most of the year, while ports farther north experienced double this tidal movement. He explained fundamental causes of tides, gravitational attractions of the sun and moon.

Plaza, Oak Bay Show Mystery Thriller

Everyone who has any hankering for psychological mystery shows will want to see Columbia Pictures' newest thriller, "My Name Is Julia Ross," currently playing at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres and featuring Nina Foch, Dame May Whitty, George Macready, Roland Varno and Anita Bolster.

Overnight, a beautiful girl becomes the prisoner of a mad killer. Doomed to die... in the eerie house by the sea... where a murderer's secrets are buried alive... her fight to save herself is chilling, shocking and daring. You won't forget it in a hurry. Probing deep into a woman's soul, it turns out to be the eeriest mystery of the year.

Primary Teacher Wins U.S. Honor

Miss Marion James, for the past five years supervisor of primary work in Victoria schools, has been added to the kindergarten committee of the Association of Childhood Education, it was announced by the association today.

The association, which has its headquarters in Washington, D.C., has members from every part of the United States. Miss James is the only Canadian member of the special committee.

She was born in Winnipeg and educated in Victoria and Winnipeg, attending the Victoria Normal School here. She took special training for primary work at the University of Washington, Columbia University, in Berkeley, Calif., and at the University of B.C.

Safeway Employees At Annual Dinner

Other officers elected were Harold Kirk, vice-president; Lilian Noble, secretary; Cora Manton and Henry Neilson, social committee; Kenneth Waterman and Kay Trevelyan, welfare committee.

Lee Scadding and John Lambeth received 10-year service pins from Harry McMillan, association divisional vice-president, Vancouver.

Bruce Robinson divisional president from Vancouver, welcomed guests. He made special mention of those who had returned to the association from overseas.

Dancing concluded the evening.

Edmonton Canadians Take Two-Game Lead

EDMONTON (CP)—Edmonton Canadians are two games up on Moose Jaw Canucks in the best-of-seven western Canada junior hockey league semifinal series.

The Albertans eked out a 7-to-6 victory here last night before 6,000 fans. They won the first match 7 to 4. Third and fourth games will be played in Moose Jaw, Saturday and Monday.

Edmonton held a big advantage in the first and third periods, but were hard pressed in the middle stanza when Moose Jaw forced most of the play to bang in two goals and hold a 4-to-3 lead going into the final session. Doug Anderson and Harry Groves, with two each, Eddie Thomas, Johnny Rypien and Bill Gadsby scored for Edmonton. Herb Lovett, with two, Wilbur Prinz, Bert Olmstead, Dick Butler and Metro Prystal netted for Canucks.

LAKE LAND, Fla.—Eddie Lake, Detroit Tigers' shortstop, acquired in a trade with the Boston Red Sox, agreed to terms today, and will join the Bengals in spring training here Tuesday.

The Tigers traded Rudy York for Lake during the winter. He was to have reported Feb. 27, but remained at his home in Oakland, Calif., because of salary disagreement with general manager George M. Trautman.
